

LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTION PARTNERSHIP

ADVANCING JUSTICE AND PUBLIC SAFETY SOLUTIONS

Jay Fisher

Assistant Attorney General (Fmr.)

Colorado Attorney General's Office

Parker, CO

Jay Fisher is currently a criminal defense attorney in Denver, Colorado. He formerly worked as an appellate prosecutor and as an Assistant Attorney General for the Colorado Attorney General's Office. Fisher also formerly served as an Assistant Attorney General for the State of Georgia in the Criminal Division, where he handled post-conviction matters on behalf of the prosecution. He has been involved in numerous murder appeals of both local and national prominence. Jay also represented the Georgia Department of Corrections in constitutional rights cases.

Jay believes ardently in libertarian principles and has grown increasingly concerned with the growth of government intrusion into people's lives, leading to an erosion of freedom and constitutional rights. He's a strong advocate on behalf of freedom of speech and restoration of individual privacy rights under the Fourth Amendment. Jay's stances have nearly cost him his career, leading to censure by an employer after he publicly testified on behalf of medical marijuana in Alabama.

Prior to entering law school, Jay worked in public safety as a paramedic and E.M.T. for the City of Atlanta. He worked closely with people addicted to drugs and victims of drug-related crimes. He was also one of the first members of the Metro Medical Strike Teams, established to respond to mass-casualty, terrorism-related events nationwide.

The Law Enforcement Action Partnership is a nonprofit organization composed of police, prosecutors, judges, and other criminal justice professionals who use their expertise to advance drug policy and criminal justice solutions that improve public safety. With 150 speakers across the United States, LEAP representatives reach millions of Americans each year through educational programs and media interviews..
