

LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTION PARTNERSHIP

ADVANCING JUSTICE AND PUBLIC SAFETY SOLUTIONS

Officer Evan Douglas Metropolitan Police Department Washington, DC

Officer Evan Douglas began his law enforcement career in 2016 as a patrol officer with the Metropolitan Police Department in Washington, DC. In 2018, he joined the DC Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency Detail and was responsible for ensuring supervisees had access to programs that would help reduce re-offending. That same year, he joined the Environmental Crimes Unit and worked in Ward 8 to develop relationships with businesses owners and DC governmental agencies to help prevent crime through community oriented policing.

Officer Douglas previously volunteered as a legal advice advocate for the Eastern Service Workers Association, where he analyzed state laws to help clients find employment and housing. He holds a BA in criminal justice from Temple University and is a graduate of Georgetown Law Center's Police for Tomorrow Innovative Policing Fellowship. He is currently pursuing a MA in criminology from George Washington University.

The Law Enforcement Action Partnership is a nonprofit organization composed of police, prosecutors, judges, and other criminal justice professionals who use their expertise to advance drug policy and criminal justice solutions that improve public safety. With 200 speakers across the United States, LEAP representatives reach millions of Americans each year through educational programs and media interviews.
