

LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTION PARTNERSHIP

ADVANCING JUSTICE AND PUBLIC SAFETY SOLUTIONS

Lucy Lang
New York State Inspector General
New York, NY

New York State Inspector General Lucy Lang is a lifelong New Yorker, attorney, and educator. As New York State's 11th Inspector General, she oversees the Office's investigations into corruption, fraud, abuse, and misconduct in state government. She has deep experience designing and implementing practices that promote institutional integrity, transparency, and accountability. She previously served as Director of the Institute for Innovation in Prosecution, a national criminal justice organization.

Inspector General Lang served as an Assistant District Attorney in Manhattan, where she investigated and prosecuted violent crimes including homicides, gun violence, and domestic violence and served as Special Counsel for Policy and Projects. In collaboration with Columbia University's Center for Justice, she created Inside Criminal Justice, a first-of-its-kind college class for incarcerated students and prosecutors to study criminal justice and develop policy together. Inside Criminal Justice is now a national model.

Inspector General Lang is a member of the Council on Criminal Justice and a Term Member of the Council on Foreign Relations, and has served as Vice Chair of the American Bar Association Criminal Justice Section. She was appointed to and served on the New York State Bar Association Task Forces on Racial Injustice and Police Reform, and on Racism, Social Equity, and the Law. She has been published in The New York Times, The Atlantic, the New York Daily News, and many others. Inspector General Lang is the author of "March On!," a children's book about the 1915 Women's March for Suffrage in New York City which encourages the next generation of courageous and thoughtful leaders. Inspector General Lang is a graduate of Swarthmore College and Columbia Law School, where she was the Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Gender and Law and has served as a Lecturer-in-Law.

The Law Enforcement Action Partnership is a nonprofit organization composed of police, prosecutors, judges, and other criminal justice professionals who use their expertise to advance drug policy and criminal justice solutions that improve public safety. With 200 speakers across the United States, LEAP representatives reach millions of Americans each year through educational programs and media interviews.
