

LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTION PARTNERSHIP

ADVANCING JUSTICE AND PUBLIC SAFETY SOLUTIONS

Captain Lawrence Hunter (Ret.) Waterbury Police Department Waterbury, CT

Captain Lawrence Hunter (Ret.) began his law enforcement career in 1995 as an officer for the Waterbury Police Department in Connecticut. He served as a patrol officer, communications dispatcher, and field training officer before he was promoted to sergeant. He was one of the first members of the newly formed Crisis Intervention Team and taught Defensive Tactics to recruits and veteran officers. In 2006, he was promoted to lieutenant and received training with the FBI Law Enforcement Executive Development Association Institute and became an instructor of fair and impartial policing, human behavior, and civil complaints. In 2017, he became a captain and was assigned to the Professional Standards Division as its commanding officer.

Hunter retired from policing in 2019 as a night shift commander. He holds a BS in psychology from the University of Phoenix and a MA in Forensic Psychology from Walden University.

The Law Enforcement Action Partnership is a nonprofit organization composed of police, prosecutors, judges, and other criminal justice professionals who use their expertise to advance drug policy and criminal justice solutions that improve public safety. With 200 speakers across the United States, LEAP representatives reach millions of Americans each year through educational programs and media interviews.
