Pittsburgh, PA

Patrick Nightingale is a former prosecutor and practicing attorney in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. As Assistant District Attorney in the Allegheny County District Attorney's Office, he was one of the founding members of the Domestic Violence Unit.

While prosecuting numerous drug cases, Nightingale saw the devastating effects of mandatory minimum sentencing schemes. He has also seen violent criminal enterprises use their enormous profits from the drug trade to take hold in Pittsburgh.

He has been a guest on KDKA Radio, KDKA Television, The DVE Morning Show, WRCT Radio, WKQV Radio and is quoted often in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and Pittsburgh Tribune Review.

Nightingale currently runs a law practice that includes both state and federal courts, at the trial and appellate levels, and involves everything from simple drug possession to federal R.I.C.O. prosecution.
