

LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTION PARTNERSHIP

ADVANCING JUSTICE AND PUBLIC SAFETY SOLUTIONS

Capt. Leigh Maddox (Ret.)
Maryland State Police
Baltimore, MD

Captain Leigh Maddox (Ret.) retired from the Maryland State Police in 2007. In the 1990s, she served as a patrol trooper and supervisor within the Intelligence Division. Maddox worked long-term undercover assignments and infiltrated criminal organizations, including the Klu Klux Klan. She later served as the Commander of the Baltimore Washington Metro Troop's Planning and Research Division, Training Division, and as the coordinator for the racial profiling consent decree related to the drug interdiction policies of the Maryland State Police. She also has experience as a criminal investigator, legislative coordinator, public affairs spokesperson, and academy instructor.

Formerly a professor at the University of Maryland School of Law, Maddox was cross designated as a Special Assistant State's Attorney for Baltimore City. She earned her BS from Johns Hopkins University and her JD from the University of Maryland, School of Law. She currently works in private practice.

The Law Enforcement Action Partnership is a nonprofit organization composed of police, prosecutors, judges, and other criminal justice professionals who use their expertise to advance drug policy and criminal justice solutions that improve public safety. With 150 speakers across the United States, LEAP representatives reach millions of Americans each year through educational programs and media interviews..
